What Scouting Means to Me

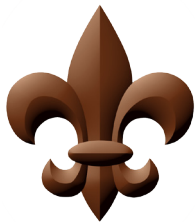

Scouting was one of the most transformative and fun experiences of my life - it shaped me into who I am today.

When I was a cub scout it gave me some great people to simply have fun with and Camp Brinkley was the best part of my summers. All of the summer songs, food, swimming and shooting ranges were so awesome.

Then I got into boy scouts and it quickly became the biggest part of my life. I loved my entire patrol and the constant outings gave me so much joy that I wouldn't trade them for anything. Summer camps were even better than those in cub scouts. I went on backpacking trips and got a ton of memories in return although I still couldn't catch up to Mr. Rae.

The trip down to New Mexico at Philmont Scout Ranch was incredibly challenging, but the support from people I went with and meeting the challenges of the rough terrain will have a lasting impact on me forever. Volunteering at Day Camp gave me even more friends and leadership opportunities. I caught a fish with a carrot there one year.

This led into the next part of scouting that I ventured into, and I can say that without a doubt Venturing gave me relationships that will last a lifetime. I love my Crew so much and I am pretty sure we were the best crew of all time. I owe all of this to Scouting. More importantly, Scouting saw me turn from a small boy just happy to have a s'more to the man I am today. It showed me how to be led, how to lead and enable others, and gave me a set of moral values that will guide me for a long time. It also taught me how to build a snow tunnel right below your older brothers' tent so he will fall in. So, for giving me joy, the scout law to guide me and the knowledge of how to shoot a 50 caliber rifle, thank you Scouting for everything.

Mason's Eagle Project

The whole PM crew

My Eagle Project was to reclaim a hill in the park of the Higher Woodlands park in the Kingsgate neighborhood of Kirkland. There was a very old structure that was falling apart by the hinges and had become sort of an eyesore and danger to people. My job was to take apart this structure, take all of its pieces up the hill and then replant the area to a natural state.

The Project began very early in the morning and once the work was split up and roles were given out it went very smoothly. The chainsaws and grinders went to work on the wood structure and the wood was removed in good order. Plans had to change halfway through with some of the wood still being in very good condition and it was saved for further uses. Sooner than expected the replanting process was started and completed.

We finished the project within 6 hours due to all of the amazing support and help of all the scouts and friends who showed up. A big thank you to Mr. Lee, Mr. Mayberry, Mike Gibbons and Rick Quinn for making it possible.
