What Scouting Has Meant to Me

Scouting has been the most life-changing program I have taken part in. I have learned a lot about the world around me, but even more about myself.

I have learned how to follow, how to lead, and how to enable others to lead. I have learned the true meaning of perseverance, from completing merit badges to finishing that last mile into camp. I have learned to continue forward when plans unravel before my eyes. But most importantly, I have gained a set of moral values: the scout law.

Your life will change constantly, and you will always need to adapt to whatever challenges come your way. With this set of values at my core, I am able to confidently say that I will make the right choices, no matter the adversity.

Jack's Eagle Project

Jack and his project advisor Mark Lane relax in front of his completed Eagle project.

My Eagle project was renovating an area of the Woodinville Montessori School's playground. The project consisted of building a play house, a patio, and a rock path.

The project was completed in two phases; one at my house, and the other at the Montessori School. The house structure was completed at my house. The patio, rock path, and staining were all completed at the Montessori School.

While the project was a success, it wasn't smooth sailing start to finish. I had to learn to improvise and adapt to project-breaking situations.

I would like to thank all those who helped me with my project, especially Mr. Lane, Mr. Calder, and Mr. Schill.
